Ask if someone's OK. Say you're sorry. Just say hey.

In a world that can sometimes feel like it's filled with negativity, one kind word can provide a moment of hope. It can be a turning point. It can change someone's perspective. It can change their day. It can change the course of a conversation and break the cycle of bullying.

Best of all, one kind word leads to another. Kindness fuels kindness. So from the playground to Parliament, and from our phones to our homes, together, our actions can fire a chain reaction that powers positivity.

It starts with one kind word. It starts today.

Call to action

Reporting concerns

You tell us that you are happy to speak to adults in school and that the majority of you have a 'trusted adult within school, but..... we wanted to make it even easier for you to do report any concerns that you have and to be able to do so anonymously if you want.

Paper 'My concern is:' slips available at Reception – add as much detail as you can and post it in the drop box at Reception – checked everyday.

Supported by HRH The Duke of Cambridge, The Diana Award Anti-Bullying Campaign engages young people, parents and teachers to change the attitudes, behaviour and culture of bullying by building skills and confidence to address different situations.

Anti-Bullying Training

The Diana Award offers all schools in the UK Anti-Bullying Ambassador training for free. We are now part of this scheme to train a number of students in school to become our anti-bullying ambassadors.

What is a anti bullying ambassador?

Is someone who has been trained in their role to help educate their peers on bullying, lead on anti-bullying campaigns, promote a culture which celebrates and tolerates difference and help keep their peers safe both online and offline as well as in school!.
